

ENVELOPES AND POCKETS

POCKET ALBUM

By Sandi Genovese

Transform ordinary envelopes into a special pocket album. Select envelopes that are large enough to accommodate the photos you want to store inside. Create a cover for your pocket album with a unique magnet closure.

fig.2

1. Select several envelopes and fold the top flaps backwards. (fig.1)
2. Lick the adhesive on the flap to attach it to the next envelope. (fig.1)
3. Line the interior of each envelope with patterned paper.
4. Cut photo mats for each envelope and create top tabs with stickers stuck together that overlap the mat. Position each tab so that no two tabs are in the same place. (fig.2) If you want to conceal the inside of the first envelope attach an extra envelope (with the flap tucked inside) to the top of the envelope stack. Punch a half of a circle in the top to make it easy to remove the title page sitting inside. (fig.3)

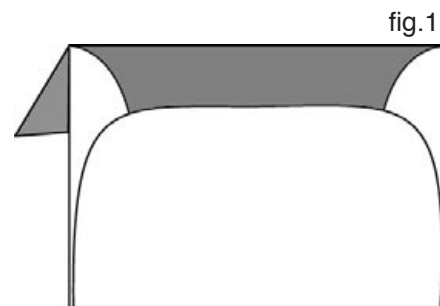

fig.1

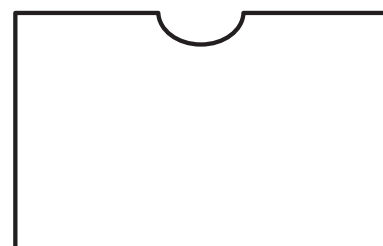

fig.3

5. Attach photos and embellishments to the mats and journal on the back of each mat. (fig.4)

fig.5

6. Create a wrapper to hold the pocket album by folding a sleeve around the stacked envelopes. Fasten the stack of envelopes to the wrapper with adhesive. Attach a self-adhesive magnet strip to each end of the wrapper to create a closure for the album. (fig.5)

7. Decorate the album cover with complimentary papers and stickers. Clip a card to the cover band with a colored paper clip that is sandwiched between matching stickers. (fig.6)

fig.6

MATERIALS

- Stickers: Mrs. Grossman's
- Adhesive: Hermafix
- Patterned Paper: Paper Patch
- Black Corrugated cardboard
- Envelopes
- Plain Paper: Canson
- Colored paper clips
- Self-adhesive magnet: Ellison